POTTERY

Terracotta meets design

The Terrecotte Poggi Ugo kiln is a reference point for the production of excellence of the famous Impruneta terracottas. These are made by hand using traditional techniques and the resulting articles offer a large range of antique styles, artistic reproductions, models typical of the 900's as well as contemporary. Even though loyal to tradition the owners, Antonella and Lorenzo Andrei, Ugo Poggi's grandchildren, are decidedly focused towards the future and anticipate lines and shapes representing the very best of the tastes of tomorrow. The business is organized to satisfy both limited production as well as to make hundreds of pieces of the same article which can then be shipped to customers all over the world. The business is actually producing a collection of designer and contemporary models, also with the assistance of designers and architects.

Artisan creativity

F.lli Ugolini Bronzisti, artisans in Florence, is a company which was founded at the end of the 19th century, gradually establishing itself in Italy and abroad for the production of lighting articles and ornamental objects made of bronze and brass. Still today, their products are exclusively handmade, using the traditional phases of melting, turning, chiselling and polishing. The specialization and passion of the workmen and the workshop's equipment, in particular, allow the company to offer refined and exclusive models, aimed at knowledgeable and demanding clientele that is looking for originality, attention to detail and artisan creativity.
